

Pre-Approved Entry Doors

Each home in Drumaldry originally came with a front door in one of three designs: three, six and eighteen panels. Paired with the matching garage doors, these designs were custom made for our homes and were a focal point in the architecture of our community.

After almost forty years the need to replace the entry door has become a necessity for many homeowners. The Architecture Committee has pre-approved the following designs to help make a replacement easier.

The first three sections are grouped by their relation to the original designs. Section four contains designs that are not related to an original. All designs are pre-approved and homeowners are not required to choose a door based on their original.

The illustrations show the design configuration of panels only.

Considerations for whether the door will be stained or painted is up to you. This will determine the species of wood or the use of composite, metal or fiberglass.

Many companies have applied mouldings available, as well as flush or raised panelling. The panels should not have any carved designs.

The closest match to existing doors is achieved with flush panelling and applied moulding. However, flush panels without applied mouldings are Arts & Crafts or Mission Style. Very exaggerated raised panels are not consistent with a contemporary look, either.

Please discuss these choices with your vendor when ordering your door.

Every effort has been made to reflect accurate model numbers and availability. Please check the web sites mentioned for the most up-to-date options.
